March Is Reading Month!

Super Heroes are roaming the halls of the Lewiston School! Stop in the school to look at the decorated doors and hallways. Also, be sure to check out the reading month calendar (on the back) so that your child can participate in the 'earn class points' competitions. They will be able to come to school in PJs, wear certain colors, and shirts with words.

The goal of March is Reading month is to increase the amount of time your child spends reading. As your child reads at home, be sure to fill out their reading coupon so their name can be added to drawing for weekly prizes and stop by the public library to do the scavenger hunt and get registered for the Kindle drawing.

Be sure to join in on the fun of March is Reading month!

In the blink of an eye...

"It goes by in a blink of an eye." I have heard that saying many times, but am really feeling it right now. We are preparing for our oldest daughter to graduate from college in April and our youngest daughter to graduate from high school at the beginning of June. GASP! How can this be?! It feels like it was just yesterday that I was snuggling with both of them on the couch reading their favorite books (Island of the Skog, Officer Buckle and Gloria, Invisible Moose and The Three Little Pigs). I loved reading to them each night... even on those nights when I was tired, crabby, and still had so much to do. As we started to read I could feel my own tension begin to fade and their bodies begin to relax. There were very few missed nights of reading because they wouldn't let me forget. It became 'the best time of the day' ... and something I had no idea I would miss so much!

During March is Reading month I encourage you to read to your child each night. Turn off the video games and TV, set aside the phone, and snuggle in for 'the best time of the day' because this opportunity goes by in a blink of an eye! Don't miss it!
